

LUCY RUSSELL ORGANICS

THE FACIAL SERUM 30ml

Rainbow Brights

A vibrant visage is a must-have this spring. Cast aside boring neutrals and experiment with colour

We're all feeling a little brighter now that winter has finally drawn to a close and this optimism is reflected in this season's fashion and beauty trends. Cast aside your tired brown eyeliner: this season, fashion's Seventies vibes mean that neutrals are out and brights are in!

This can be a difficult trend to carry off, calling as it does for flawless skin and the regulation eight hours' sleep – girlish pastels and tired eyes are not a happy combination. Boost your complexion with Lucy Russell Organics' divine facial serum or the Green Grocery's Face and Neck Treatment, both packed full of ethically-sourced nourishment – and made in Battle and Hastings respectively. After applying lashings of your chosen moisturiser, cast off your winter pallor with a liberal sweep of highlighter – like the perky pink Bella Bamba from Benefit (£23.50). The beauty of this trend is that anything goes: try a new eyeshadow in purple, pink green or blue (Benefit and M.A.C have a particularly good range of colours) and marvel at the rejuvenating effect of colour. Lips are also bold and beautiful this season, but only if you keep the rest of your face relatively bare – make-up artist Caroline Kearney gives her tips on the next page.

1 Facial Serum, £28, from Lucy Russell Organics www.lucyrussellorganics.co.uk

2 Face and Neck Treatment, £19.50, from the Green Grocery www.green-grocery.co.uk

Stockists:
Plenty Provisions, St Leonards on Sea
01424 439 736
Soak, Hastings
01424 422 267

3 Fancy Pansy Velvet Eyeshadow, £13.50, from Benefit
Stockists:
Debenhams, Brighton
01685 720041
House of Fraser, Chichester
01243 786551

4 Estée Lauder Wild Violet Collection, from £12.50
Stockists:
0870 034 2566